What are Neighborhood Councils?

The Neighborhood Council program provides an opportunity for Simi Valley residents to participate in local government at a grass roots level. The City of Simi Valley is divided into four Neighborhood Council districts. Every City resident 18 years and older is a member of their respective Neighborhood Council. The Neighborhood Councils meet once a month to:

- Give residents the opportunity to voice their concerns or ask questions about their neighborhood and city;
- Advise the City Council and Planning Commission on development projects and resident concerns;
- Give developers the opportunity to dialog with residents and address concerns early in the planning process.

For more information on your Neighborhood Council or to receive meeting flyers and agendas by e-mail, please visit the City of Simi Valley's website at www.simivalley.org/neighborhoodcouncils or contact Emily Habib, Neighborhood Council Coordinator, at (805) 583-6756.

If any interested individual has a disability that may require accommodation to participate in this meeting, please contact the Neighborhood Council Coordinator at (805) 583-6756. Upon advance notification, reasonable arrangements will be made to provide accessibility to the meeting.
